Dear Dr. Mitchell Neilsen,

My name is Eric Haslag and I am a Software Engineering Team Leader at Garmin. I was graduated from the College of Engineering at the University of Missouri with a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Engineering in 2010. I have 11 years of professional experience as a software engineer at Garmin. Mike is a colleague of mine in the Device Interaction organization. We have worked together in both technical and leadership capacities for several years.

I have performed a technical review of the documentation for Mike's project, Planr. It is of my professional opinion that Mike has successfully passed the technical criteria set out for this project.

Sincerely,

Eric Haslag
